

5-6 YO - Red 1 - Pre Rally Kids

Down Rally:

Simple exchange game for players that cannot rally yet.

The pro marks off a micro court about 4 x 4 feet. The balls used for this drill is a basic play ground ball or small basketball. Each player stands near the court facing each other and they proceed through 3 parts of the drill.

Part 1 – Each player takes turns bring the ball to their foreheads and bouncing it down inside the micro court so the other player can catch it. This first step is done mostly cooperative, but still trying to move the opponent around the micro court.

Part 2 – Same as above, but now rather than catching the ball, the layers use both hands and bat it down in to the court. This is a little less cooperative and more competitive.

Part 3 – Same as above, but now the players only use one hand to bat the ball down. If possible, this variation should be fully competitive.
